MISSION STATEMENT

Islamic Academy of Huntsville (IAH) believes that all children should have an opportunity to become well-rounded individuals and to mature to their fullest human potential in an Islamic environment that promotes high academic achievement and moral excellence based upon the guidance of the Quran.

IAH admits students of any sex, race, religion, or nationality with priority given to children of Muslim families.

PHILOSOPHY OF EDUCATION

IAH promotes multicultural respect, high expectations for academic achievement, and educational excellence. IAH strives to nurture intellect and moral character through its curriculum. Community service and hands-on activities enhance the education program from preschool through the sixth grade. The curriculum is based on the Alabama Course of Study and national standards for education and includes Arabic literacy, Quran recitation, and Islamic Studies.

STRUCTURE

Islamic Academy of Huntsville (“IAH”) was founded in 1997 as a non-profit “church” school operating under the auspices of the Huntsville Islamic Center. IAH is governed by an Executive Committee appointed by the Education Secretary of Huntsville Islamic Center.
